

Changing Our Lives

Student and Parent Information Sheet

The Children and Families Act 2014 says it wants to make sure that all children and young disabled people and children and young people who have been told they have Special Educational Needs, have good lives.

They want young children and people be involved in making decisions in their lives.

They want children, young people and families to be supported to prepare for the future, having a job, choosing where to live and being part of their community.

The Sandwell Challenge Board want to make sure young disabled people and young people with Special Educational Needs have good lives.

The Sandwell Challenge Board are looking at paid work for young people.

We want to find out about your dreams about paid employment in the future and what this means to you.

We want to know about your work experience ideas.
